While doing humanitarian work in Syria, Kayla Mueller was taken hostage by ISIS in August 2013. Kayla's identity had been kept secret until ISIS claimed that she was killed in February 2015 at the age of 26. Kayla was a compassionate and devoted humanitarian. She dedicated the whole of her young life to helping those in need of freedom, justice, and peace.

"Here we are. Free to speak out without fear of being killed, blessed to be protected by the same law we are subjected to, free to see our families as we please, free to cross borders and free to disagree. We have many people to thank for these freedoms and I see it as an injustice not to use them to their fullest." — 1/1/11
